The Kravis-de Roulet Leadership Conference

The Kravis de-Roulet Leadership Conference, which began in 1990, is an annual leadership conference funded jointly by an endowment from financier Henry R. Kravis and the de Roulet family. This funding, along with additional support from the Kravis Leadership Institute and Claremont McKenna College, enables us to attract the finest leadership researchers, scholars, and practitioners as conference presenters and participants.

Conference proceedings will be published in an edited volume. Check our website for announcements.
