

The Mgrublian Center for Human Rights
Presents:

The Children Were Watching

A Robert Drew Film

Join us for a screening of Robert Drew's critically acclaimed 1961 documentary, The Children Were Watching. Watch as he captures a crucial moment in the Civil Rights struggle, the integration of a school in New Orleans and examines how prejudice can be passed down from generation to generation. Snacks will be provided.

Where: Claremont Hall Lounge

When: 7:00-8:00 Sunday, November 19